Message from our President ~ Scott

September was like a very long slide and we just 'slipped' through it!

The Utah Quilt Fest was awesome! It was really enjoyable to meet with other Utah quilters. The quilt display really gave us a lot to think about. The designs and handwork were so unique in detail and artistry. I realized how we are at different levels of design and what we want to achieve. I am so happy with the Christmas Quilts I'm making for grandchildren, and with the designs I have chosen. I realize I am artistic in my own right; seeing other art quilts gives me reason to strive for better quilting. I hope you feel the same way because our guild has so much talent to offer. The purpose of 'sharing' with each other is that we teach without even knowing it. By associating with one another we always learn some little thing to help us in our quilting. I am grateful to be involved with such wonderful quilters who have taught me to enjoy quilting.

~Scott

Spotlight ~ "Trilby Fry"

Many years ago, I started my life in New England and graduated from Tufts University with a degree in Education and a Certificate in Occupational Therapy. Slowly I have been working my way across the country with stops and jobs in Massachusetts and Connecticut, blind rehab in Minneapolis, graduate school in Michigan, a teaching position at the University of North Dakota and finally to Utah working first in nursing homes and then ending in the school system.

When I retired my goal was to learn how to quilt and as you know, I did. (That was in 2008). How much I have learned since then. I'll never be an expert, but I'm having lots of fun and have met so many new people.

When not quilting, I volunteer at an elementary school two days a week working with second graders and extended day kindergarten. Love it!

There are three children that claim me as their mother. One in Utah, one in California and one in North Dakota. In my extended family I have a son, three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Traveling to see the relatives, children, the bull riding and whatever is squeezed in in the summer time and whenever else it will fit in.

“Dream Landscapes”

Artful quilts with fast-piece appliqué.

“Our journeys effect who we are and how we view those things we see. I like to remember also that what we call “traditional quilting” today was really the previous generation’s heartfelt attempt to react to what they saw on their journeys.” by Rose Hughes

Humanitarian Projects

October 25

For October humanitarian, finish up and pass in the projects that have been started since March . For example, baby quilts, rag quilts, dog blankets, pj's.

The project of the month is to sew the squares that have been cut (and cut more squares) for quilts for low income housing.

Sunshine and Shadows:

We were happy to have Linda with us in Sept. and hope she’s feeling much better today.

"Mentoring Children"

Remember how you felt with the first sewing project you completed? It may not have been the best, but it was yours! I remember that project well.

We have a wonderful opportunity to help young children learn to sew, but first we need supplies to get them started.

* Small container i.e. Altoid tin, plastic tub with lid, etc.

* Used dryer sheets (Please not wrinkled, they can't be ironed flat.)

* Pins, needles, scissors, seam rippers, tape measures, marking pencil, etc.

Teaching will be done on an individual basis, volunteers welcomed and appreciated.

Thanks so much, Janet Dexter
