JANUARY NEWSLETTER

General Meeting: 2nd Thur. of each month 10:00 a.m. Senior Center

News Flash!!

Quilt Guild DUES

Just $20.00 for yearly dues to belong to the "Best Quilt Guild in the West" as Scott dubbed us. (Well, close to what he said.) They are due in January, and can be paid anytime during our business meeting on January 10th or as soon as possible.

NOTE from the retreat committee:

Quilts to be displayed at the retreat need to be given to Rachel Shallenberger at the business meeting Jan. 10th, or the following week Jan. 17th. We have room only to display 20 quilts, they must be queen size or larger, and they must be labeled with a contact name.

Message from our President ~ Scott

HAPPY NEW YEAR to all of our members!! It is really exciting to start the new year with the anticipation of the Cedar Chest Quilters Retreat. I have been shopping, cutting, measuring and guessing in preparation for this event. We need to acknowledge Judy Rockwell and Carlene Reid for their everyday involvement in our behalf. A big Thank You!

I felt bad I was unable to attend the last monthly meeting to cast my vote. However, I was pleased with the outcome. It assures that the guild will remain strong with such dedicated leaders and the many volunteers that are always willing and ready to help.

A personal note: There are 112 members in our Guild, and 200-some registered for the Retreat. Let us all be good hosts by being friendly and helpful to our guests. Our Retreat is the 'Best in the West' because everyone that comes has a good time and goes home happy.

See you all at the Retreat!

Scott

KING OR QUEEN OF SCRAP CHALLENGE

You may use a pattern of your choosing. Those taking the challenge can pick up their fabric at the January meeting. The fabric will be placed on a table at the back of the meeting room and be arranged by color.

The quilts will be displayed during the business meeting in March and will be judged by a panel of local quilters. There will be a first, second and third prize.

Those wishing to take the challenge but who didn't sign up can do so by seeing Trilby.

Here's wishing you all happy quilting.

~Trilby

Sunshine and Shadows:

No notice of illness this month; let's hope it stays that way. We don't have time to be ill with the retreat coming. Got fabric to buy and quilts to make!!!
